The 1860 Slave Schedules conclude the Ante Bellum agricultural survey and slave schedules series. Unfortunately, the federal government did not record slave and agricultural records while recording the census before 1850.

The editor of this magazine would like to thank, once again, Darrell Ricketts, Principal of Aynor High School and Mrs. Danielle West, Media Specialists at Aynor High School, for making the project possible. The students who worked on this particular installment in this series are David Roberts, Menzo Burch, Kelly Brown, Brandon Jenkins and Eddie Martin. Like the first three publications in this series, students are responsible for recording and doing the preliminary editing.

Anyone who has worked with the original census population report documents understands how difficult and time consuming a project like this is. All of the students who worked on this series should be commended and thanked for unveiling the past and making it possible for us all to learn history. I am impressed and thankful to these students for the hard work, dedication and accuracy of these publications. Let posterity never forget that it was Aynor High School students, not professional historians, who prepared these documents that can teach us all a tremendous amount about our past.

The editor of this magazine highly approves of this format for the Independent Republic Quarterly. Please mail comments about this series, and the proposition of future series like this one, to: Christopher C. Boyle/ Editor
